

“I know that I have the gift of teaching...

But I also enjoy taking a leadership role in school situations. Sometimes I think that God might be calling me to be a Christian school administrator, but I really don't know how to find out.”

If this sounds like you...

Let us tell you about an exciting opportunity! This summer, CSI and Calvin College —in partnership with and the Society of Christian Schools in BC (SCSBC) — are sponsoring the tenth annual Educators Leadership Development Institute (ELDI). This Institute is designed to help Christian teachers explore Christian school administration, and the related key life questions:

- Has God gifted you for leadership?
- What might that leadership look like in the context of Christian schooling?

Scholarships

CSI will award partial scholarships to selected applicants for the week-long Institute. In addition, a travel subsidy is available to attendees coming from a distance. These scholarships are made possible by CSI and its partners, Calvin College, and SCSBC.

Program Details

This year's Institute will be held at the beautiful Cedar Springs Christian Retreat Center located in Sumas, WA. The dates are July 5-9, 2010.

- Selected applicants must be able to stay on the conference site for the duration of the Institute.
- Any CSI teacher with three or more years of successful teaching experience may apply.
- Up to 20 applicants will be eligible for scholarships.
- Preference given to those who have not previously held a school-related administrative position.

Application Details

Application is available via our website at <http://www.csionline.org/events/development/ELDI>

Questions? Contact Dave Koetje at dkoetje@csionline.org or 800-635-8288 ext 254

All applications and supporting documents are due to CSI no later than April 26, 2010